* [redacted] Comment. As 1,862 cars were handled in March 1952, the volume of supply traffic in the area of the Erfurt railroad district headquarters doubled since the preceding month. The daily average number of cars was 60 in March. No unusual measures were noticed in the supply sector during the time of observation. Therefore, it is believed that the coverage [redacted] has been intensified. This is particularly true with regard to traffic with the army supply depot at Erfurt-Marbach, [redacted] Its outgoing shipments have increased about 100 percent over the preceding months.
